Dear Sarah,

I am writing to thank you for your involvement in the New Zealand College of Midwives Family Violence education programme. The NZCOM Family Violence education programme has been supported by the dedication of a small number of midwives who have helped to set up and facilitate workshops throughout New Zealand. The goal of the education programme is to give midwives the practical skills and knowledge to be able to routinely ask women about family violence and be able to offer them support and advice about services that will support them.

I would like to acknowledge your role in the provision and support of these workshops during 2006 and take this opportunity to thank you for your involvement in this work and for the commitment you have shown to this programme and to the midwifery profession.

Yours sincerely

Lesley Dixon
